

Do you have Export Controlled Data on your Device?

The University of Colorado Colorado Springs is committed to complying with all applicable United States export-control laws and regulations. It is each employee's responsibility to understand or seek guidance on any export control requirements related to his or her work and to ensure that no exports are made contrary to those requirements. We work in conjunction with the Security team to ensure proper handling of any device containing Export Controlled Data.

The IT Help Desk requires that any device containing Export Controlled data be reported BEFORE turning in a device for work.
